The NFASSP website is your website. We would be glad to post news about our members, their employers, and the local health & safety community. This includes job openings and professional development opportunities, as well as promotions, awards, and recognition news.

For more information about the website, and to send news to post, please contact Karen Peissinger, NFASSP web coordinator, via the Contact Us page (<https://nf.assp.org/contact-us/>).

Although we plan to work on the meeting ideas presented in the membership survey, if you have any ideas for meeting presentation topics or speakers let us know at president.nfassp@gmail.com.

Wishing everyone a good end of Spring and a great Summer. Be safe out there.
